JAPAN WAITS LEAGUE NOTE ON MANCHURIA

On Report Will Depend Whether Nippon Withdraws From League

TOKYO, Jan. 28.—Foreign Minister Yamaoka was authoritatively reported today to have sent notice to the League of Nations that Japan's decision on whether to withdraw from the League will depend on the character of the proposed league's report on the Manchurian issue.

Count Uchida sent a message to Geneva these sources said, and a Japanese delegation, to inform the League of Nations of the receipt of article 18 of the League covenant was applied to the Manchurian controversy. Japan's decision on continuing membership would depend on the nature of the report called for in that paragraph.

The League already has been requested a report under this paragraph. It provides for recommendations for League action when the report is received.

The Japanese delegates, however, were reported empowered to consider it advisable. Provided Japan's position on the Manchurian issue is unchanged, the Manchurian issue is unchanged.

And it is there a pleasant note in the Pacific states that you may find Samuel Insull, deposit American utilities empire, a year ago reported to be one of the 100 men who rule America.

His latest of these flights for freedom which he so melodramatically escaped in recent years. He is the latest to be cast in the role of man without a country.

Insull has joined the ranks of present day exiles. Self-preservation under these exiles in, and the terror of facing a world filled with financial ruin, political duress, desertion of an obligation, the horror of a crime. Such are the things which have sent men and women, but more often men, out into strange waters, away from home and everything they have loved. Insull did because he was the "World's Greatest Failure."

Greene is a little country, no bigger than New York City. But Samuel Insull, the exile, reckons he'll stay there awhile, perhaps even organize a business there. His wife is expected to join him from Paris soon, perhaps his son, Samuel, Jr., will also be there. The climate is delightful, the associations pleasant. A small island, yet not far from the continent's dock in a Chicago moment.

HUNDREDS ARE REPORTED DEAD IN HOLLAND BATTLES

Chinese Versions of Clashes Claim Heavy Losses on Both Sides

SHANGHAI, China, Jan. 28.—Chinese versions of Sino-Japanese clashes in the disputed province of Jehol today listed hundreds slain on both sides.

An report that Chinese had captured Chingwang, second largest city in Jehol, was countered by Chinese as unfounded because they understood Japanese had not yet occupied the city. A Japanese report from their Chingwang, Manchurian military base said a Chinese force had been repelled at Chingwang last week and that the Japanese had held the city, about 120 miles north of Shinkiang, since July 15.

First Chinese reports on the serious raid by the Japanese on Kaili, in northeastern Jehol, said about 100 Chinese were killed and many persons killed. They further stated the Japanese infantry attack on Fowai, in eastern Jehol, and had been repelled by the Chinese with little loss.

Roosevelt and British Envoy Reach Accord

MEETINGS ON WAR DEBTS IN EARLY MARCH

Meetings Will Also Likely Include Confabs Over Economies

By FRANK M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Jan. 29.—In the seclusion of a cottage atop Pine mountain, President-elect Franklin Roosevelt and Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States, reached a tentative understanding today for the March meetings on the war debts and plans for world-wide economic recovery.

Two sessions scheduled next week in pen and ink and talked to newspapermen by Sir Ronald, he departed hastily on his way to London. He said he would like to see the British ambassador to the United States.

The British ambassador and Mr. Roosevelt have had a wholly informal and confidential but very satisfactory conversation concerning the arrangements for the coming year.

It is hoped that it will be possible to start these meetings early in March.

Roosevelt and Lindsay made in direct reference to war debts and the economic conference over which there is an apparent conflict between the two countries on pre-war.

The fact that the statement referred to "meetings" rather than a "meeting" was interpreted by some to mean that Mr. Roosevelt desires for separate negotiations on debts and economies still stands.

How Duke Keats and his Edmen hockey workers are on the steel rails today, bound for Vancouver and two games in the Pacific coast. They meet Kenny McKenzie's Bruins Tuesday night in Seattle, and are back here Saturday morning for a game that will end with Saskatoon.

Before pulling out for the coast last night, the Duke expressed the hope that they would get a hot two wins out there before they would get out, anyway.

Eleven players—the regular squad and the new men, Joe Thorslund—made the trip. Your agent, by the way, had a look at Thorslund in action Saturday and, although he was somewhat stiff after his hard initial workout on Friday, he showed every indication of being a good hockey player.

Incidentally, Keats made it known last night that he would be another new forward on hand here by the time the Eds get back on Saturday. He said, however, that the odds of the player with whom he is at present negotiating would be a present certainty.

Edmen's victory continues to win games for Detroit Olympics in the International League. The team's last season's record was the goal that gave him a team win over London last night.

LIFT GIVEN TO WHEAT FUTURES WINNIPEG PIT

WINNIPEG, Jan. 29.—Scarcity of oats and steadiness in outside markets gave a lift to wheat and flour in the grain pit today. Commercial purchasers held about the week-end and during the session, wheat values at the close were higher than Saturday's list figures. May closed at 48 1/2, July at 47 1/2 and October at 45 1/2.

Operations revealed little interest. Mills bought a little wheat but export trade was narrow and prices were held to a firm level in the price range. For lengthy periods there was hardly a transaction in the price range.

Statistics for the week show wheat shipments of wheat decreased 5,000 bushels compared with the previous week. Supplies on ocean passage decreased a similar amount. Clearings from all sources amounted to 12,000 bushels of which North American contributed 4,200 bushels.
